3.0 Terms and Definitions

4.0 Procedure

- 4.1 Discrimination is unlawful when it takes place on one of the following grounds:

- age
- gender re-assignment
- pregnancy and maternity
- Sex
- disability
- marriage and civil partnership
- race
- religion or belief
- sexual orientation

4.2 Discrimination can take a number of forms:

- Direct discrimination is when someone is treated worse than someone else just because of a protected characteristic. For example, it would be direct discrimination if a manager excludes an employee from a training course just because she is pregnant;
- It is also direct discrimination when someone is treated worse than someone else because they associate with someone with a protected characteristic or because they are perceived to have a protected characteristic. For example, it would be direct discrimination if an employee ostracised a colleague because the colleague has a homosexual flatmate or because he thinks the colleague is homosexual;
- Indirect discrimination is when an apparently neutral practice or requirement disproportionately disadvantages one group and cannot be justified by the needs of the business. For example, imposing a requirement that job applicants must speak fluent English disproportionately disadvantages non-English groups and would be unlawful unless it could be justified on genuine business grounds; and

- It is also discrimination when a disabled person is treated unfavourably because of something connected to their disability and this cannot be justified by the needs of the business or when the business fails to make reasonable adjustments for a disabled person.

4.2 The Company's Approach

- 4.2.1 We aim to avoid discrimination in all aspects of employment and recruitment. Our approach to different aspects of employment and recruitment is set out below.

4.3 Recruitment and Selection

- 4.3.1 We aim to ensure that job requirements and job selection criteria are clear and based only on what is required to get the job done effectively. We will avoid making stereotypical assumptions based on protected characteristics about who is able to do a particular job.

- 4.3.2 We aim to ensure that no job applicant is placed at a disadvantage by provision, criterion, practice or requirements which disproportionately disadvantage protected groups, and which are not justified by the demands of the job.

4.4 Promotion, Training and Appraisals

- 4.4.1 Promotion and training decisions will be made on the basis of merit. We will not unlawfully discriminate against any employee in making promotion or training decisions. We believe all employees should have an equal opportunity to progress and develop.

4.5 Working Conditions and Terms of Employment

- 4.5.1 We will try to accommodate cultural or religious practices such as prayer requirements where we reasonably can. We aim to ensure that our terms of employment, benefits, facilities and policies are free from unlawful discrimination. We will ensure that decisions made under our disciplinary, grievance, performance improvement and attendance management policies are carried out fairly and without discrimination.

4.6 Termination of Employment

- 4.6.1 We will ensure that we avoid discrimination in making decisions about dismissal or redundancy.

4.7 Disabled Employees

- 4.7.1 We will make adjustments to accommodate disabled employees where possible and reasonable. If you think you may have a disability, you are encouraged to tell the business about this so that we can explore what adjustments might be appropriate.

4.8 Training on Equalities

- 4.8.1 We will train our managers and those responsible for recruitment on understanding and avoiding discrimination.

4.9 Your Rights and Responsibilities

- 4.9.1 You have the right not to experience unlawful discrimination in our workplace. You also have a responsibility to understand this policy and help us to implement it.
- 4.9.2 All employees, workers, agency workers and contractors have a duty not to discriminate against each other and not to help anyone else do so.

4.10 Our Relationships with Visitors, Customers and Suppliers

- 4.10.1 You must not discriminate against any of our visitors, customers or suppliers. Equally, we expect our visitors, customers and suppliers not to discriminate against you and we will take appropriate action against any visitor, customer or supplier found to have done so.

4.11 What to do if you believe you have been discriminated against

- 4.11.1 If you believe that you have been unfairly discriminated against, please tell us. You can speak informally with your manager or anyone in Human Resources. If you want to make a more formal complaint, you are encouraged to raise the matter through our Grievance Procedure. If you believe there has been any bullying or harassment, then you should follow the procedure contained in the Bullying & Harassment/Dignity at Work Policy. Both of these procedures are detailed within the Employee Handbook.
- 4.11.2 Allegations of potential breaches of this policy will be treated seriously. Employees and contractors who make such allegations in good faith will not be victimised or treated less favourably as a result. However, false allegations of a breach of this policy which are found to have been made in bad faith will be dealt with under our disciplinary procedure.

4.12 What will happen if you act in a discriminatory way?

- 4.12.1 If, after investigation, we decide that you have acted in breach of this policy you may be subject to disciplinary action up to and including dismissal. This applies to the most senior levels of management as well as to all other employees.

4.13 Policy Review and Promotion

- 4.13.1 We will promote and publicise our Equality Policy as widely as possible using our company website, offer packs and handbook. We will review our Equality Policy on a regular basis.
